3. Factual background

The Complainant, Television Broadcasts Limited, commonly known as TVB, describes itself as the first wireless commercial television station in Hong Kong. It was first established in 1967 with only about 200 staff. The Complainant has now grown to a size of over 3,600 staff and artistes worldwide. Shares of the Complainant have been publicly listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange since 1988.

The Complainant’s core businesses include, inter alia, television broadcasting, programme production and other broadcasting related activities such as programme and Video-On-Demand (“VOD”) licensing, digital media business, audio and video products sales and distribution. It is one of the largest producers of Chinese language programmes in the world. Its Chinese programmes are distributed to more than 200 countries and regions.

The Respondent, xiaozhu wang, failed to submit a response timely, or at all, and is in default in these administrative proceedings.

4. Parties’ Contentions

A. Complainant

The Complainant’s contentions may be summarized as follows:

(i) The Disputed Domain Name is confusingly similar to Complainant’s trademark

The Disputed Domain Name <tvtvb.cc> contains the Complainant’s registered “TVB” trademark, and is confusingly similar to the Complainant’s registered mark, which the Complainant has used in commerce continuously for more than 50 years. The Complainant’s “TVB” trademark was registered in Hong Kong in 1992, and is currently registered, or registrations by the Complainant have been applied for and are now pending, in over 30 jurisdictions worldwide.

(ii) Respondent has no rights or legitimate interests in the Disputed Domain Name
The Respondent is in no way connected, associated or affiliated with the Complainant, moreover, the Complainant has not authorized, endorsed, licensed, or otherwise permitted the Respondent to register the Disputed Domain Name or use the Complainant’s registered trademark, or any variation thereof.

There is no evidence that the Respondent is commonly referred to by the Disputed Domain Name, and there is no reason why the Respondent might reasonably be said to have any rights or legitimate interests in registering or using the Disputed Domain Name.

In April 2021, it came to the Complainant’s attention that the Respondent had registered the Disputed Domain Name, which resolves to a website which allows the general public to view the Complainant’s television programmes free of charge. Large volumes of the Complainant’s proprietary works are being distributed on the Respondent’s website without Complainant’s authorization from, or compensation to, the Complainant.

The Respondent’s registration and use of the Disputed Domain Name cannot be said to be a legitimate or fair use, but rather, is a fraudulent act which takes advantage of the Complainant’s goodwill and reputation. The Respondent is impersonating the Complainant’s identity to mislead the general public into believing that the Disputed Domain Name is associated with the Claimant, or is one of the Claimant’s official websites, such as www.tvb.com, when it is not, or that the Complainant has authorized the Respondent’s use of the Disputed Domain Name, which it has not.

(iii) The Respondent registered and is using the Disputed Domain Name in bad faith

By setting up its website through which it distributes and offers for public viewing online the Complainant’s programme contents, the Respondent is in fact using the Disputed Domain Name in direct competition with the Complainant.

The Respondent’s use of the Disputed Domain Name and website has seriously prejudiced the Complainant’s commercial interests. The Respondent has diverted customers from the Complainant, who, instead of buying video products, subscribing to VOD or Over-The-Top (“OTT”) video services, or visiting online platforms authorized by Complainant, may now choose to visit the Respondent’s competing website in order to obtain the Complainant’s programme contents free of charge. The Respondent’s use of the Disputed Domain Name and website have thereby adversely impacted the Complainant’s business and income sources.

It is obvious that the Respondent is riding on the Complainant’s goodwill and reputation and is using the Disputed Domain Name in bad faith to deliberately attract Internet users to the Respondent’s website for its own, unfair commercial benefit. By making use of the Complainant’s proprietary works, and by creating a likelihood of confusion with the Complainant’s trademarks, the Respondent has misled the public to believe that the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or endorsement of the Respondent’s website or location, or a product or service on Respondent’s website or location are associated with the Complainant, or operate with it's the Complainant’s authorization, which is untrue.

B. Respondent

The Respondent’s contentions may be summarized as follows:
The Respondent, xiaozhu wang, failed to submit a response timely, or at all, and is in default in these administrative proceedings.

5. Findings

Paragraph 15(a) of the Rules instructs the Panel as to the principles the Panel is to use in determining the dispute: “A Panel shall decide a complaint on the basis of the statements and documents submitted in accordance with the Policy, these Rules and any rules and principles of law that it deems applicable.”

Paragraph 4 (a) of the Policy requires that the Complainant should prove each of the following three elements to obtain an order that a domain name should be cancelled or transferred:

i. Respondent’s domain name is identical or confusingly similar to a trademark or service mark in which Complainant has rights; and

ii. Respondent has no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the domain name; and

iii. Respondent’s domain name has been registered and is being used in bad faith.

Paragraph 5(e) of the Rules directs that if, as is the case here, a Respondent does not submit a Response, then in the absence of exceptional circumstances, the Panel should decide the dispute based upon the Complaint.

A) Identical / Confusingly Similar

The Complainant argues that Respondent’s Disputed Domain Name is identical to Complainant’s registered “TVB” mark pursuant to Policy ¶ 4(a)(i). The Disputed Domain Name incorporates the Complainant’s mark in its entirety.

The Panel finds that the addition of “TV”, the universally recognized abbreviation for “television”, which is the Complainant’s core business, only enhances the confusing similarity between the Disputed Domain Name and the Complainant’s registered “TVB” trademark. Further, the addition of “.cc”, the Internet country code top-level domain for the Cocos Islands, an Australian territory, is a standard administrative requirement for domain name registration and is irrelevant for purposes of distinguishing a disputed domain name from an established mark. See, Microsoft Corp. v. Mehrotra, D2000-0053 (WIPO Apr. 10, 2000) (finding that the domain name <microsoft.org> is identical to the complainant’s mark).

The Panel finds that Policy ¶ 4(a)(i) has been satisfied.

B) Rights and Legitimate Interests

The Panel finds that the Complainant has not authorized the Respondent to use the “TVB” mark, nor is the Respondent commonly known by the Disputed Domain Name. The Complainant alleges, and the Panel agrees, that it is therefore impossible to conceive of a circumstance in which the Respondent would use the Disputed Domain Name, except in a deliberate attempt to take advantage of the “TVB” mark for commercial gain.
The Complainant has established a prima facie case that the Respondent has no rights and legitimate interests in the disputed domain name, and the burden of proof thus shifts to the Respondent to produce evidence demonstrating that the Respondent has rights or legitimate interests in respect of the Disputed Domain Name.

The Respondent has failed to submit a Response to the Complaint or to show any rights or legitimate interest in the “TVB” mark and has, ipso facto, failed to refute or deny the allegations raised by the Complainant.

Further, a review of screenshots taken of the Respondent’s website confirms the conclusion that the Respondent targeted Complainant with the intention of registering the Disputed Domain Name to create confusion and impersonate the Complainant, when, in fact, the Respondent is trading on the Complainant’s name and goodwill by pirating the Complainant’s proprietary works which Respondent then supplies to the public free of charge in competition with the Complainant’s paid VOD, OTT and other web-based video entertainment services. The Panel finds that the Respondent’s conduct is inconsistent with any lawful or legitimate right or interest in the Disputed Domain Name, or fair use.

The Panel finds that Policy ¶ 4(a)(ii) has been satisfied.

C) Bad Faith

The Panel finds on the Complainant’s evidence that the Respondent, xiaozhu wang, has targeted the Complainant’s registered “TVB” mark to impersonate the Complainant and is supplying, free of charge, “large quantities” of the Complainant’s own proprietary video entertainment works on its website in competition with the Complainant and to the Complainant’s detriment.

The Panel further finds on the evidence, that the Respondent registered and used the Disputed Domain Name in bad faith for the primary purpose of disrupting the Complainant’s business and attracting Internet users for commercial gain to compete unfairly with the Complainant by creating a likelihood of confusion with the Complainant’s mark as to the source or sponsorship of the Respondent’s website or of the products on Respondent’s website, or both.

The Panel finds compelling evidence of the Respondent’s bad faith impersonation of the Complainant, in the form of screen shots taken by the Complainant on 22 April 2021, showing that the Respondent’s website prominently displays the Complainant’s distinctive blue-green-red logo inscribed within an outline of a television screen, alongside the Chinese characters 【港劇網】，which the Panel translates as “Hong Kong Drama Network”, appearing directly above the URL for the Disputed Domain Name, www.tvtvb.cc:

!Image of the website

See, Prada S.A. v. Domains for Life, WIPO Case No. D2004-1019), the panel found bad faith where: “The Respondent capitalizes on the worldwide fame of PRADA to attract users which are then redirected to a number of commercial Websites, most of them not associated with Prada, and some of them competing with Prada or even selling counterfeit Prada products.”

The Respondent did not submit a Response to the Complaint and has not sought to refute the Complainant’s evidence.

The Panel finds that Policy ¶ 4(a)(iii) has been satisfied.

6. Decision

Having established all three elements required under the ICANN Policy, the Panel concludes that relief shall be GRANTED.

It is ORDERED that the <tvtvb.cc> domain name be TRANSFERRED from Respondent to Complainant.
