

Dora Chow

Consultant, China-Appointed Attesting Officer

Tel: +852 2298 7188

Email: dorachow@zhonglun.com

Practice Areas

- Intellectual Property

Admissions

- Hong Kong
- England and Wales (non-practicing)
- Australia, Northern Territory (non-practising)
- China-Attesting Officer, the People's Republic of China

Profile

Dora leads the Intellectual Property (“IP”) practice of our Hong Kong office and her areas of practice include contentious and non-contentious IP matters, and the attestation of documents for use in China. Before joining Zhong Lun in Hong Kong, she was the Head of the IP department of international law firms.

In addition to non-contentious IP matters such as trade mark and design applications, she has experience in co-ordinating and enforcing IP rights in Mainland China, Hong Kong and the South East Asian countries. She also has experience in resolving domain name disputes and she is a panelist of both under the Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre (HKIAC) and Asian Domain Name Dispute Resolution Centre (ANDRC) (Hong Kong Office).

In 2003, Dora was appointed by the Ministry of Justice in China as a China-Appointed Attesting Officer (“CAAO”). As a CAAO, she could attest the signing of declarations and other documents for use in Mainland China.

Dora is also a contributor to Thomson Reuters IPR licences and assignments Q & A.

Professional Affiliations

- Member of the Asian Patent Attorneys Association Hong Kong Group
- CEDR Accredited Mediator
- Member of Hong Kong Institute of Arbitrators

Education

- MBA, University of Hong Kong
- Solicitors Final Exam, College of Law, Chester, England
- B.A., London Metropolitan University, London, United Kingdom
- Associate Member of HK Institute of Arbitrators (HKI Arb)

Languages

- English, Chinese (Cantonese and Putonghua)